Re: Tree Conservation Ordinance

At its most recent meeting, the Historic Districts Commission expressed interest in the update of the Tree Conservation Ordinance currently in process. The revised ordinance has been considered by the Planning Commission and will be passed on to the City Council for their review and approval in the coming months. It is attached for your reference should the Historic Districts Commission like to preview the document. This revised ordinance will be incorporated into the City Code and as such, is not recommended for approval or approved by any body outside of the City Council. If the HDC would like to express support for the proposed revised Tree Conservation Ordinance, please send individual emails or letters of support. City staff will include those items when this is passed along to the City Council.
