..Title

Adoption of Resolution to Dissolve City Council Communication Committees

..Body

Whereas, in an effort to enhance communication with the Administration and create a more effective committee structure, the Rochester Hills City Council at its meeting of January 27, 1999 adopted

Resolution No. 1999-0095 to create four (4) City Council Communication Committees, the Administration and Information Services Committee (AIS), the Community Development and Viability Committee (CDV), the Financial Services Committee (FS), and the Leisure Activities Committee (LAC);

Whereas, on February 17, 1999, City Council amended Resolution No. 1999-0095 to include the Public Safety Committee as a Communication Committee;

Whereas, City agrees that the five Communication Committees have increased the communication with the Administration;

Whereas, City Council has determined that the current Council Committee structure has become too cumbersome for a seven member Council and has added an additional level of bureaucracy;

Whereas, City Council's goal is to be more efficient and more resident inclusive;

Now therefore be it resolved, the Rochester Hills City Council Communication Committees shall cease to exist effective December 31, 2006.

Be it further resolved, that Council will review all the issues that currently fall under the five Communication Committees and create City Council Technical Review Committees to address these issues on a more focused and limited scope approach to ensure that the issues are addressed in the appropriate manner.
