OFFICE OF ADMISSIONS
UNITED STATES NAVAL ACADEMY
117 DECATUR ROAD
ANNAPOLIS MARYLAND 21402-5017

July 25, 2003

ADAM ALLEMAN
763 BIRCH TREE LANE
ROCHESTER HILLS, MI 48306-3306

Dear Adam,

Thank you for expressing an interest in the United States Naval Academy. We are pleased to learn that you are starting early to consider your future after graduation from high school. As you continue your research, you will discover that you have numerous choices. You already know that a college education will broaden your field of career choices. And, graduation from the best colleges and universities will significantly enrich your life and dramatically enhance your future career opportunities.

Since you inquired about the Naval Academy, you have indicated that you set high goals and want a premier educational experience that will lead you to a fulfilling career. The Naval Academy is much more than a just a college or university, though it is rated as one of the best in the Nation. It is a challenging four-year educational opportunity where leadership is developed, hard work is rewarded, and moral, mental, and physical excellence is essential. Though it's not for everyone, the many rewards are worth all the hard work. After just four years at the Academy, you may find yourself flying high-performance jet aircraft, diving the most technologically advanced nuclear submarines, navigating an aircraft carrier around the world, or leading a platoon of the finest Marines. Yes! The challenge is worth the effort.

Prepare now so that you can be ready for your challenge at the Naval Academy. The key to gaining entrance to the Academy is simple: achieve good grades in a challenging college preparatory curriculum, hone your competitive spirit in athletics, and practice your leadership skills in clubs and community service. The table on the reverse side of this letter describes basic eligibility requirements and application information. I would also encourage you to visit the Naval Academy located in historic Annapolis, Maryland or, visit us at our webpage: www.usna.edu/Admissions.

We are proud that Naval Academy graduates have long made significant and positive contributions to our society. Astronauts, Presidents, Nobel Peace Prize winners: all top leaders in their fields. Join the team; lead the team; be part of the proud heritage. Go Navy!

Good luck,

PATH TO THE NAVAL ACADEMY

- ◆ To prepare yourself for the Naval Academy you'll need to take 4 years of math including geometry, trigonometry, advanced algebra and, if possible pre-calculus. 4 years of English, two years of a foreign language, a year of physics, world or European history and computer instruction is also helpful. Be active in sports and extra-curricular activities. During High School
- ◆ Take the ACT and SAT exams early and often. If you don't score well on one, take the other. The Naval Academy will combine the highest math and verbal scores from either test to evaluate your candidacy, and will accept results as late as February of your application year. Starting in December of your junior year.
- ◆ Complete a USNA Summer Seminar application. Summer Seminar brings over 1,000 high school students to the Naval Academy for a week during June of each summer. Students will get a first hand feel of what life is like as a midshipmen. January - March of your junior year.
- ◆ Complete a Preliminary Application. If you meet the minimum academic standards to become a candidate for admission, a candidate packet will be mailed to you and a medical examination will be scheduled. Beginning April of your junior year through January of your senior year.
- ◆ Request a nomination from your Representative and both of your United States Senators. Many congressional members set an early fall deadline for nomination requests. Spring of your junior year through early Fall of your senior year.
- ◆ Complete the candidate evaluation packet, medical examination, and Physical Aptitude Exam. June of your junior year through March of your senior year.
- ◆ Consider attending a USNA Candidate Visit Weekend an opportunity to visit the "Yard" and spend a night during the academic year. October through April of your senior year
- ◆ All candidates will receive final notification of their status no later than 15 April. If you don't receive an appointment, consider reapplying. Approximately one-third of each entering class comes from either a post high school preparatory programs, such as a prep school or a university. April 15
- ◆ Induction. If you have received an offer of appointment, congratulations! Each class typically enters the Naval Academy on or about 01 July. The next six weeks are spent learning how to be a midshipmen and building the foundation for the qualities and experiences that make an outstanding Naval Officer. July

ROCHESTER HILLS CITY COUNCIL
COMMUNICATON COMMITTEE ESSAY

ADAM ALLEMAN

I am interested in becoming a member of a Communication Committee, as my career goal is to become a naval officer through either the U.S. Naval Academy or the U.S. Coast Guard Academy. When I apply to these academies in my junior year, it is important to show leadership abilities. Being involved with the Rochester Hills government would give me an opportunity to learn the workings of leadership and how a city government functions. Being a youth representative with a part in the decision-making process is a significant responsibility I would like to have a chance at. Also, my school requires 20 hours per school year of community service for graduation. So far this school year I have accumulated 30.75 hours.

The Public Safety Committee is my first choice, as they are involved in protection of the citizens at the local level. While the Navy and Coast Guard protect the citizens at the national level, I hope to get a feel for our defense from the ground up; and start at the most basic yet one of the most key levels. I would be very interested in learning about homeland security.

Since seventh grade I have been a member of the Teen Advisory Board for the Young Adult affairs of the Auburn Hills Library. The board is made up of kids from Pontiac, Auburn Hills, Rochester and Rochester Hills. We attend bi-monthly meetings to make decisions for the YA Group, and decide on certain books. Besides the board meetings, I am involved in the monthly activities that we plan for the club. I was one of the first members of the National Junior Honor Society when it was brought to my school in seventh grade. We attended Honor Society meetings each month and were required to do community service throughout the school year. I received the Presidential Academic Award of Excellence last year when I graduated from St. John Lutheran School.

My interests right now are sports. I won my varsity letter in wrestling this year and am on the Lutheran High Northwest junior varsity baseball team. I enjoy singing and have been in choirs since second grade. Right now I am in three choirs—two at school and one at church. I had a great time in middle school doing the school plays each year. I also like bike riding on the Paint Creek Trail near my house. I enjoy sailing and will be in an advanced sailing class this summer in Alpena. I love to play paintball with my friends. Marksmanship training is something I'm going to be looking into this summer.

I don't see a problem in scheduling time as a youth representative. In grade school, we learned early how to schedule our time and were given planners every year. We've learned how to participate in a lot of different activities and still maintain high grades. Multi-tasking is our way of life.

To Whom It May Concern:

I currently teach geometry to Adam Alleman. I knew him prior to this year because of his involvement at St. John Lutheran Church and School, where I am a member and was on the board of education.

I have found Adam to be a very bright student. He easily grasps difficult concepts. He willingly offers answers to questions posed in class and is not afraid to ask when he does not understand. Adam works well in group settings and will help his peers to understand class material. He consistently scores at the top of his class on quizzes and tests.

Adam is involved with school life, participating in extracurricular activities. He is particularly involved with the vocal music groups at school, but also at church. I have seen him regularly in worship services and in bible study.

Adam is polite, friendly, and outgoing. He is an asset to our student body. I highly recommend him, without any reservations. Please call or e-mail if you have further questions.

Dear Members of the Rochester Hills City Council,

I would like to recommend one of our former students for consideration as a youth representative to the city council. Adam Alleman was a student at St. John Lutheran School for all of his early childhood and elementary years. During those ten years at St. John Adam did well academically and was also involved in many extra-curricular activities such as Chess club and Choraliers which is our touring show choir. I remember him best from watching him perform in several musicals during his middle school years. His great voice and acting skills were a joy to experience.

Adam has continued to be active at St. John also during his high school years. He is faithful in attending church and Bible classes and is still using his musical talents by singing in our church youth choir.

Adam is an intelligent young man and is willing to share his thoughts on various matters which makes him a great candidate for your youth council. It is my privilege to recommend him highly.

Sincerely,
