Re: Historic District Commission Vision

At the May Historic District Commission meeting, along with considering the two (2) applications, we can hopefully spend some time to pick up on our conversation that was started last year around this time regarding the vision for the HDC and what some of the goals may be for achieving that vision. You may remember that we started this conversation when we visited the Museum last year for our meeting with Pat McKay and his team. Hopefully we can revive that conversation and have some meaningful conversation about what the HDC would like to accomplish in the coming year(s) in terms of projects, studies, education, etc.
