Mayor Barnett remarked that one of the City's favorite things to do is recognize outstanding talent in the community. He shared that Chad Anderson is the first-ever Mr. Tennis from Rochester Hills, and read the proclamation in honor of Chad. He concluded by acknowledging the supportive environment needed to become a champion, and invited Coach Jerry Murphy to share a few words.

Jerry Murphy, Rochester High School Varsity Boys Tennis Team Head Coach, thanked the City on behalf of Rochester High School, the tennis team, and the

He also noted that at the State tournament, Chad cramped up in his last match but did not let that stop him, as he was determined to win. He announced that next year, Chad will be playing at Marquette University, where his brother Clayton currently plays, and commented that between the two brothers, he has not had to do much coaching of the number one players the past six years.

PRESENTATIONS

2025-0592 Legislative Update by State Senator Michael Webber

Attachments: 121525 Agenda Summary.pdf

State Senator Michael Webber announced that the State budget, which was passed in early October, focuses on fiscal responsibility and tax relief, highlighting the elimination of taxes on tips, overtime, and Social Security. He emphasized a significant shift in infrastructure funding, noting that all tax revenue collected at the gas pump is now being directed back into road improvements. He explained that for Rochester Hills, this equates to a 31 percent increase in annual road funding, totaling $13.4 million; an ongoing yearly increase of approximately $3.3 million. He also highlighted a $100 million annual investment in the Local Bridge Program and a $2 million budget allocation secured by himself and Representative Mark Tisdell for roadway infrastructure improvements and indoor community space at Nowicki Park. Regarding revenue sharing, he reported a projected decrease of approximately $500,000 due to the removal of sales tax on gas, but noted that he is working on a bipartisan basis with Senator Moss and Senator Cherry on the Revenue Sharing Trust Fund bills currently before the Senate Appropriations Committee. He also discussed his efforts to establish a State-wide funding mechanism within MDOT for sound wall barriers, noting that this grant-based program would allow municipalities to apply for funding to address noise pollution issues. He concluded by bringing up the newly implemented Public Safety Trust Fund, explaining that while the current formula is weighted toward communities with higher safety concerns, Rochester Hills is still expected to receive approximately $47,000 in the first year for law enforcement and fire services. He expressed his intention to advocate for a more equalized distribution of these funds in the future, and encouraged residents to stay informed by signing up for his monthly e-newsletter.

Mr. Blair commented that missing the July budget deadline reflects poorly on the entire government. He pointed out that Rochester Hills employs a three-year budget and that this has served them very well, and inquired whether the State could adopt a similar framework. He also noted that because EV drivers do not pay at the pump, the State has previously considered higher registration fees to ensure they contribute their fair share toward road maintenance. He questioned how EVs fit into the current funding model and whether the recent elimination of federal EV tax credits has shifted the State's projections or strategy.

Senator Webber noted that in his nine years in the legislature, the budget deadline has only been missed twice. He expressed support for the July 1st target, but admitted that current laws lack the teeth necessary to enforce it strictly. He stated that while a multi-year framework is an interesting concept, the primary solution remains improved bipartisan communication and better coordination between the the House and Senate Chambers to ensure timely completion of the State's financial obligation. Regarding the gas tax, he committed to providing specific data on recent legislative components affecting EVs, but noted that the gas tax may become a relic of the past in the next 15 to 20 years. He explained that as even gas-powered vehicles become more fuel-efficient, the State must explore creative funding alternatives; however, many options used by other states, such as tracking miles driven, are currently unpopular with the public, leaving the State in a period of transition as they work to determine a viable path forward.

Ms. Neubauer brought up the approximately $47,000 in public safety funds allocated to the City, and voiced concern over the previous loss of a School Resource Officer in the Rochester Community School District due to a funding deficit of roughly $55,000. She inquired if these new State funds are flexible enough to restore that position, emphasizing the need to prevent the sunset of the allocation. She also mentioned the 24 percent tax on cannabis intended for road funding, and expressed skepticism over the timeline for visible improvements, citing long-standing delays in projects like the I-75 expansion. She concluded by commending Senator Webber's leadership on mental health reform and offering the support of the probate legal community to assist in future legislative work.

Senator Webber confirmed that the legislative language is likely broad enough to cover the expense of a School Resource Officer, noting that while the program struggled to get off the ground in previous sessions, it is now formally codified in the budget. He clarified that the funds will be directed to the City, allowing Council to determine the most effective local application. He also explained that the cannabis tax is a new revenue mechanism designed to support a $2 billion infrastructure goal. He shared that the State is already anticipating this revenue in the current budget cycle ending September 30th, but acknowledged that the implementation is subject to ongoing litigation. He voiced his appreciation for Ms. Neubauer's support as it relates to mental health reform, noting that further developments are forthcoming.

He remarked that it has been a very rewarding and productive year, and stated that the City is still committed to the same principles that have become the backbone of its financial foundation, with the foremost being that the City is operationally sound. He added that the City became debt-free this year and has no plans to issue debt anytime in the future.

President Carlock Opened the Public Hearing at 8:01 p.m. Seeing no public comment, President Carlock Closed the Public Hearing at 8:02 p.m.

Ms. Mannino inquired whether the 2026 numbers reflect the $10 million being carried forward into the 2026 budget, and requested more information regarding the nature of the carried-over funds. She also questioned what allowed for the $3 million reduction in operating expenses.

Mr. Snyder confirmed that the 2026 budget includes the $10 million being carried over, and explained that the vast majority of these funds is allocated to projects that have already been awarded but are not yet complete. He cited ongoing work at Fire Station No. 1 and the SCADA system as primary examples. Regarding the $3 million in savings, he pointed out salary lapses resulting from the time required to fill positions following retirements, and credited the City’s department directors for their fiscal discipline, noting that the City avoids end-of-year spending surges.

Ms. Neubauer inquired when the City can expect to obtain the results of the audit of Oakland County. She also requested confirmation that they will be able to view the information, and questioned whether they could demand more granular data if the initial audit provided by the County is too high-level or deficient.

Mr. Snyder voiced his belief that the City will receive the audit during the first quarter of 2026, and noted that the information is public and that the City will actively engage with the auditors to review specific cost centers, such as dispatching and patrol costs. He stated that the City could request additional details within reason.

Attorney Christ confirmed that the City is well within its legal rights to request supplements, amendments, or specific supporting documentation to ensure a thorough accounting.

President Carlock questioned whether any potential findings in the audit would be applied as a credit toward 2026 or a refund toward 2025.

Mr. Snyder shared that because the County and City operate on different fiscal year-ends, the timing of adjustments can be complex. He emphasized that Oakland County cannot profit off its contractual deputy contracts; while they may incur a loss, they are prohibited from generating a surplus. He noted that the recent 17.9 percent increase in costs was intended to address a structural operating loss at the County level. He continued that if the audit reveals that the County overcharged the City, the adjustment would likely take the form of a credit for 2026 rather than a reopening of previous books. He further clarified that such a correction would most likely manifest as a reduction in the currently scheduled 9 percent annual increases for the upcoming years to bring the budget back into alignment.

Mayor Barnett praised Mr. Snyder and the City’s leadership team for their exceptional fiscal management, noting that the City’s financial position is among the strongest in Michigan. He highlighted that, excluding deferred projects, the City is ending the year approximately $4 million under budget; a result of diligent contract management across 75 different agreements. He emphasized that while Council must formally approve any project that exceeds its budget, the significant underspending across other departments often goes unrecognized but is a testament to the team’s operational excellence. He contrasted Rochester Hills’ financial health with neighboring municipalities, pointing out several key distinctions in their conservative strategy: cash funding, debt avoidance, and long-term stability.

A motion was made by Blair, seconded by Limberg, that this matter be Adopted by Resolution. The motion carried by the following vote:

Joe Snyder, Chief Financial Officer, and Dave Word, Executive Recreation Director, Rochester Avon Recreation Authority (RARA), were present.

Mr. Word reported that RARA reduced its reliance on fund balances for capital projects due to strong revenue development and controlled expenditures, and shared that during 2025, they completed several key projects, including an e-sports gaming room and facility renovations. He noted that they served 12,000 participants across more than 600 programs and finalized their first-ever Master Plan, marking a highly successful operational and financial year.

Mr. Snyder added that these budget amendments were presented to and approved by the RARA Board back in November. He stated that tonight marks the final step: bringing the amendments before the Rochester Hill City Council for final approval.

President Carlock Opened the Public Hearing at 8:18 p.m. Seeing no public comment, President Carlock Closed the Public Hearing at 8:19 p.m.

Ms. Neubauer thanked Mr. Word for all the youth programs RARA offers, and noted that RARA's support of the Rochester Raptors and the Michigan Scholastic Cycling Association has allowed kids to excel in their athletic programs at school. She applauded RARA's environmental awareness and fiscal responsibility.

Ms. Mannino requested confirmation that the fourth-quarter update indicates that RARA is on budget.

Mr. Word shared that expenditures were actually down in comparison to revenue, resulting in a more favorable financial position than initially projected. He explained that a significant factor in these savings was a gap in employment, as two new coordinators originally slated for January did not begin their roles until March; consequently, instead of the projected $181,000 draw from the fund balance to cover capital improvements, they required only $171,000. He added that these budget amendments have been vetted by Ms. Mungioli, who sits on the RARA Board; a Council Member from the City of Rochester; and RARA's Budget Committee and Board.

A motion was made by Neubauer, seconded by Skelcy, that this matter be Adopted by Resolution. The motion carried by the following vote:

Aye 6 - Blair, Carlock, Neubauer, Limberg, Mannino and Skelcy

Whereas, at its December 15, 2025 meeting City Council held a Public Hearing on the proposed RARA FY 2025 4th Quarter Budget Amendments.

Now, Therefore, Be It Resolved, that the Rochester Hills City Council hereby adopts the RARA FY 2025 fund total as amended in the amount of $3,423,230.

Ken Elwert, Parks & Natural Resources Director, and Dennis Andrews, Deputy Parks & Natural Resources Director, were present.

Mr. Elwert characterized this request as the first significant construction step for Nowicki Park, following an extensive public input process that began in 2023. He noted that the project addresses a specific need for playground facilities in the City's northwest quadrant, and explained that the City utilized a Statement of Qualifications (SOQ) process rather than a traditional RFP to better evaluate the unique design concepts and qualifications of specialized vendors. He emphasized the necessity of authorizing this purchase now due to long lead times for equipment, ensuring the playground is ready for installation by late fall.

Mr. Andrews provided a detailed overview of the playground's design, which covers approximately one acre and centers on a nature-inspired theme. He highlighted the following key features:

- Inclusive Design: The site will feature the City's first poured-in-place rubber surfacing for universal accessibility and three central timber towers that are wheelchair accessible, allowing users of all abilities to traverse the elevated structures.
- Age-Appropriate Play: The equipment is rated for ages two to 12, including a dedicated area for younger children (ages two to five) with slides, swings, and ladders.
- Unique Elements: The site offers varying slide heights, a sandpit featuring alpine huts and buried mastodon bones, and musical instruments like bongos interspersed throughout.
- Adventure Features: The site features a bamboo forest for pole-to-pole jumping, a summit boulder with color-coded climbing paths, and a popular bucket swing similar to the one at Innovation Hills.

President Carlock sought clarification on the park's orientation relative to Adams Road, noting the proximity of residential condos, and inquired about the specific composition of the playground surfacing and its drainage capabilities.

Mr. Elwert shared that the park borders Arrowood Court to its south and that they have engaged with all four of the landowners whose properties border the park. He also explained that the squishy poured-in-place rubber surface consists of a thick foam safety layer over a gravel base, and added that while the design includes a dry riverbed and swales to manage runoff, the rubber surface itself is not primarily pervious.

Mr. Skelcy questioned why a company named “Michigan Playgrounds” is based in Ohio. He also raised concern over the possibility for wasp nests in the timber towers.

Mr. Elwert clarified that most large-scale playground distributors operate on a regional Midwest basis and that this vendor was selected through a comprehensive evaluation of nine different firms. Regarding pests in the wooden structures, he noted that the towers are constructed from durable black locust timber and are subject to regular safety and maintenance inspections.

Mr. Limberg praised the project’s innovation, contrasting it with the outdated and often hazardous playground equipment of previous generations.

Mr. Elwert commented that this playground does include a few elements of risk, such as the climbing wall and the parkour poles, to engage older children, but noted that they maintain strict safety standards.

Ms. Mannino raised questions regarding safety certifications and the City’s potential liability.

Mr. Elwert provided assurance that the equipment meets all CPSC and ASTM standards and has undergone rigorous entrapment tests to prevent injuries. He further noted that the site will be covered under the City’s general liability policy through the Michigan Municipal Risk Management Association, which also performs periodic site reviews.

Mr. Blair commended the design, but urged caution based on lessons learned from Innovation Hills, specifically regarding high maintenance costs and over-popularity.

Mr. Elwert confirmed that several takeaways were applied to this design, including the elimination of expensive custom pieces in favor of standard parts, better placement of vegetation to allow for heavy equipment access, and the installation of irrigation to reduce manual labor for staff.

Ms. Neubauer voiced appreciation for the project’s commitment to inclusivity, highlighting that the design exceeds minimum ADA requirements to ensure children of all abilities can play together.

Mr. Limberg brought up the potential for kids to climb the outside of the towers, noting that this is what he would try to do as a kid.

Mr. Elwert explained that while the vertical slats will make external climbing difficult, staff will monitor the park for a year to identify and mitigate any unforeseen adventuresome behavior by users.

President Carlock questioned the purpose of the horizontal structures within the third level of one of the timber towers.

Mr. Andrews clarified that they are steps.

Mayor Barnett thanked the Parks Department for their work. He drew parallels to the success of Innovation Hills, stating that the City aims to maintain a high-caliber park experience. He emphasized that while safety remains the primary priority, the City will continue to pursue innovation and private funding to ensure Nowicki Park becomes a premier community asset for the northwest quadrant.

A motion was made by Blair, seconded by Neubauer, that this matter be Adopted by Resolution. The motion carried by the following vote:
