Re: Planning Commission Bylaws

As a part of our Redevelopment Ready Community requirements, the City is required to have published Planning Commission Bylaws. The City has adopted Planning Commission Bylaws, which were last adopted in 2012. As a best practice, City staff has reviewed the currently adopted Bylaws and has made some recommendations as to how they may be improved upon. The proposed changes are redlined in the attached document and should be considered by the Commission. If the Commission finds the proposed amendments acceptable, based on the currently adopted Bylaws, the amendments could be voted on at the next regularly scheduled meeting.
