ADDITIONAL INFORMATION

During my time as a Lansing Resident I also served as a "consulting activist," where I helped citizens make changes they wanted to see at the local level. I helped people to refine their ideas, I connected them to members of local commissions, introduced them to city council members, and on a few occasions even wrote proposals, bills, or amendments for them. Language I have written is in the state's MDHHS budget and at least 5 different city charters. I'm also intimately familiar with the social safety nets in and around the city and have a vested professional interest in supporting their growth and improving their accessibility.
