Re: Planning Commission Bylaws

As discussed at our November meeting, City staff has reviewed the currently adopted Bylaws and has made some recommendations as to how they may be improved upon. Those originally proposed changes are redlined. At our November meeting, the Planning Commission had additional proposed amendments which have been added to the newly revised draft. Those changes are in purple. The draft Bylaws have also been sent to the City Attorney for his review and comment and comments should be available at the meeting.

If the Commission finds the proposed amendments acceptable, based on the currently adopted Bylaws, the amendments could be voted on at this meeting since the proposed amendments were presented at the November meeting.
